

Pleased to announce the expansion of our

Labor & Employment Law Practice

We counsel C-level executives and directors of public and private employers about high-stakes employment litigation, risk management and workplace policies, and traditional labor law issues. We leverage ERISA/employee benefits attorneys, a full team of commercial litigators, board certified appellate counsel, and national-caliber M&A, finance, and corporate taxation practices to provide employers effective, integrated legal services. We have substantial experience in a range of industries, but are especially familiar with healthcare, continuous care, and PEO organizations. Our international network of attorneys helps address client needs wherever they arise.

Our practice includes preventive advice and instruction. We conduct employment audits to expose and address areas of risk before they become legal problems. We offer training seminars to educate managers and supervisors in human resources risk management and workplace issues. Our attorneys prepare and review employment policies to ensure compliance with federal and state laws. We help managers handle terminations, respond to complaints, and address other high-risk situations. This combination of educating management in employment issues and giving employees notice of company expectations results in tangible benefits.
